

Soul Guidance Manifesto

As your soul guide with Dark Moon Rising,

I am here to accompany you as a key resource with the central intention of supporting you to find your own way through this passage.

Specifically, I'm here to help you gain deeper access to the potent healing resources within you that already "know" the path to transformation and liberation. My earnest wish for you is that you may develop a clear, self-authored sense of how to heal while you're on your own.

While working together, I'll offer all the healing modalities I know that may be of service to you and you get to sift through them to see what most resonates for you.

My devout commitment is to hold you accountable to diving deeper and deeper into relationship with both your inner and outer resources so that you may become more intimately connected to and nurtured by them.

Please know that I won't engage in advice giving, rescuing or any attempts to try to circumvent the pain of your situation. This does you a grave disservice as it steals the dignity and authority of your inner sovereignty.

Pain and suffering are essential to this passage and there is no way around it. I will support you to give expression to suppressed feelings and sensations that need to come through your body. Hiding and staying small is not allowed here. Your unique pain must be offered as a gift to the world. Herein, lies a large part of the journey into your true self!

Thank you for trusting me to engage this sacred process alongside you. I look forward to holding space for your rich and beautiful inner process to unfold. I look forward to sharpening our communication together, so that you can feel most optimally supported and honored for who you are in your radical uniqueness.

The candle is lit and the space is quiet. Let's begin.

With warmth,
Christopher Peraro
